Welcome to the Birck Boilermaker Golf Complex at Purdue University, home of the 2004 NCAA Men’s Golf Central Regional Championships! The Birck Boilermaker Golf Complex features two 18-hole championship golf courses on the West Lafayette, IN campus. The courses are much different in character, but each promises a challenging test of golf.

The Ackerman Hills Course features a beautifully contoured layout over hilly, forested terrain with greens that are well-protected by trees and sand traps. The narrow fairways and numerous obstacles demand accurate shot making.

The Kampen Course, featuring an exciting design by legendary designer Pete Dye, opened to the public in June of 1998 and has since earned acclaim as one of Indiana’s premier public courses, as well as one of the nation’s leading collegiate golf courses. The course has been the host site for the Big Ten Golf Championship, and will host the 2008 NCAA Men’s Golf Championships.

Coyote Crossing, West Lafayette, 765-497-1061, www.coyotecrossinggolf.com

Opened in June 2000, this 18-hole public golf course designed by Hale Irwin, was Golf Digest’s number one pick in Indiana and number seven nationally for “Best New Affordable Public Course”. Coyote Crossing showcases one of Irwin’s beliefs as a designer: this course incorporates the natural terrain of open meadows, mature forests and wandering Burnett’s Creek, while challenging players of all skill levels.

The Ravines Golf Course, West Lafayette, 765-497-78888, www.ravinesgolf.com

The Ravines is an 18-hole championship golf course that is designed to provide an enjoyable golf experience for golfers of all skill levels and features two very different 9-hole layouts. It offers a traditional style golf course with some open and wooded areas. The course features bent grass from tee to green and has a large driving range and practice area, pro shop, snack bar and a large pavilion that can accommodate groups of any size. Their golf carts are equipped with GPS systems for yardage. Additionally, their new clubhouse offers golfers a comfortable place to relax before or after their round of golf.
